Jennifer Lopez knows how to share the "Dinero."

JLo performed the song of that title, which is her new single, with The Chainsmokers at XS Nightclub on Friday night. Alex Rodriguez and Lopez's manager Benny Medina filed into the club with a group of dancers from Lopez's show at Zappos Theater at Planet Hollywood.

Soon after touching off a scene around the club, Lopez and The Chainsmokers' Drew Taggart launched into the song, which debuted May 21 during the Billboard Music Awards telecast at MGM Grand Garden.

Lopez, Rodriguez and their accompanying entourage hit the club to celebrate one of Lopez's dancer's birthdays.

A-Rod posted a clip of the performance with the caption, "My girl killing it with the Chainsmokers."

Oklahoma City Thunder star Russell Westbrook was also at the club with a collection of friends. XS is celebrating its ninth anniversary this weekend.
